

Greek Orthodox Church in Price

Each summer they sponsor a Greek festival--food, dancing, bazaars, and tour of church--which draws hundreds of visitors from around the state. It is nice to see this handsome building.

Sharing of other ethnic and historical cultures enriches us all.

We have many his-torical churches, homes, etc. that remind us of our heritage. Many of these have been renovated. It adds to our community to blend the past with the present.

The religious and cultural diversity that exists is somewhat unique for a city the size of Price. It is good for people to work and associate with other religions and backgrounds.
